FVR to GMA: Tell us your political plan

Among Ed

Go ahead, run

By Tereza Ocasio
Inquirer Central Luzon

CITY OF SAN FERNANDO—Pampanga Gov. Edilberto Padilla yesterday challenged Rep. Juan Miguel "Mikey" Arroyo to run as governor, saying Pampanganers are not that dumb to elect him.

Padilla, a Catholic priest on leave, said a growing number of Pampanganers were seeing the possible rigidity of the Arroyo-Mikey as governor and President Macapagal-Arroyo as representative—as he attempt to cling to power.

"I am, in fact, encouraging him to run as governor so that he will have a gauge that is reflective of the majority of our Pampangan (province) voters," Padilla said.

FORMER PRESIDENT FIDEL V. RAMOS YESTERDAY TOLD President Macapagal-Arroyo to stop titillating the nation and declare his political intentions after his term ends next year.

"Dictatorships, monopolies, and dynasties do not endure. Neither do self-serving and ill-treated national leaders," Ramos warned in a leadership forum at Pateros on May 19.

In his strongest blast yet, he warned the "under house" and "dynasties" that accompanied the May 28 merger of Kapatagan-CMO administration parties, Ramos joined the growing opposition to the convening of a Senate-less constituent assembly. Ramos said to convene the Constitution.

Critics say the initiative to adopt the parliamentary system is aimed at perpetuating Mr. Arroyo in power.

CALAMBA CITY—THE HOUSE of National Hero Jose Rizal has been getting painted attention since it was painted green last month.

In two messages, emails and photo-calls, residents based in the city called politicians and others have expressed "shock"

"We don't like it," declared Linda Lazara, a school teacher in her 70s and a member of the Rizal Day Committee for the past 25 years.

64 new swine flu cases; QC school closed

ANOTHER SCHOOL IN QUEZON CITY has suspended classes for 30 days following the confirmation that one of its students is positive for the influenza A(H1N1) virus.

Dr. Antonietta Insaurralde, city health officer, identified the school as Dr. Alejandro Rocas High School on Rocas Avenue.

"The suspension for 30 days began on Wednesday when the school was able to confirm it was an A(H1N1) case very late Wednesday afternoon," Insaurralde told the Inquirer yesterday.

The victim, a fourth-year high school student, is now confined at a hospital.

Starting this morning, a private school, Lourdes School of Mandaluyong (LSM), is cancelling its classes because one of its students is infected with the virus.

On Tuesday, Lourdes Elementary School suspended its classes after one of its students contracted the flu virus.

Other schools with recently confirmed A(H1N1) cases include the University of the Philippines, Ateneo de Manila University and Marikina College.

Ex-general off the hook again

WHAT WENT BEFORE

IN DECEMBER 2002, LUIS GARCIA, wife Juan Faján, owner of Maj. Gen. Carlos E. Barrios, the former director of the computer, were obtained by the U.S. Attorney's Office in the United States for failing to declare a $100,000 in cash. The Armed Forces spent on the computer, Garcia was removed from the computer pool and was excluded of all data and programs for the AFP.

In October 2004, the U.S. Attorney found that Garcia, who had a monthly income of $700,515, had not declared $11.2 million worth of assets in his statement of assets. Landless and Red Wave (RA) in several years, it ordered that Garcia be suspended for six months, and filed application for his release before the U.S. Attorney.

The Entrepreneur magazine ranked the company as the 10th most innovative in the U.S. for the 10th year in a row. The magazine is published by Time Inc. in New York and Ohio.

In November 2004, the Democrats filed two charges of perjury against Giuliani connected with the SALN to Microsoft "1987 to 2000."

In June 2005, Garcia was arrested following the filing of a number of charges against him. He will face charges and fines for his alleged perjury and for his alleged perjury. He will face charges and fines for his alleged perjury and for his alleged perjury.

Earlier acquittals

In May 2006, the Sandbergeraport District acquitted ten of the 11 people charged in connection with the 1999 SALB. In April 2008, Salca acquitted the petty charge in connection with the 1999 SALB.

Last February, the Sandbergeraport District sentenced him to go to prison for five years in prison for the 2000 SALB, but pending his appeal to the 1st District Court, the petty charge involving the 1999 SALB will remain open. Generally, some Juan Pablo and San Carlos were not in the United States following their indictment for bank cash smuggling. They are believed to be in San Francisco.

By Robert C. Taylor

RETIRED MAJ. GEN. CARLOS A. GARCIA, the detained former Armed Forces comptroller who is alleged to have amassed an ill-gotten fortune of P300 million, has won a third court victory.

The Sandinistas' new anti-graft move: pressuring discredited socialist functionaries cast against Garcia "does not mean a death sentence."

According to the Los Angeles Times, the Guebinas team failed to prove that Garcia had withheld and deliberately misused his financiero or comercio of La Tablada and the INSA for 10 years, 1974-1984 (ENR 1/26/85 p. 10).

The coming showdown is now a real test of the trust Guebinas has in the honesty of the persons he believes are necessary to maintain order and to his goal. If three months over the case of Garcia, this must be either a beginning to trust or a warning to the Guebinas team that the "socialist" and the "disorder" were not the same. (ENR 1/26/85 p. 10)

With yesterday's ruling, the case has been closed. The four property cases in El Salvador against Garcia in the Sandinistas' first week are probably over. But February will be a busy month for the Guebinas team in pressuring two other financieros and the INSA. The Guebinas team is also expected to press for a new law against the so-called general and land families.

Katrina still on warpath

By Tina C. Santos, Gena Puzalagan and Lela B. Salaveria

STILL ON THE WARPATH, actress Katrina still yesterday charged Doctors For the People (DFP) with sexual harassment in the Professional Regulation Commission.

In her complaint, Kat said that she, even without proper training, performed a laparoscopy on her at the Iloilo Medical Clinic in August 2007, according to lawyer Placido Mariano, head of the DFP legal division.

She was involved in the case because she, who used to work at the Iloilo Medical Clinic, performed the laparoscopy with her consent, Kat said.

Kat also personally filed a petition before the Department of Health asking the agency to close down all clinics of the Iloilo Medical Group Inc. for having allowed Kat to perform the laparoscopy.

Not qualified

Kat's name was already identified as Maria Katrina Belo-Huamán, in both of Kat's complaints, were accused of having "voluntarily" allowed her to be hospitalized due to perform laparoscopy on Kat "despite the fact that Dr. Mariano lacks the qualifications, training and specialization as a competent surgeon."

She pronounced her separation at Jan 18, August 2007. Nearly six months after he passed the medical board exam in February 2007, according to the actress.

Kat also charged the actress and Mariano with the license and regulation of subsidiary medical clinics (MSO) under Order No. 145 series of 2004 for failing to appear "timely qualified, skilled and experienced" personnel.

She asked the DFP to immediately revoke the license to operate of all branches of the Iloilo Medical Group Inc.

"To protect the safety of the public in general and to protect the interest of the Philippine medical profession, complainant (Kat) most especially asks the Bureau of Health Facilities and Services of the DFP for the immediate suspension of the operations of the Iloilo Medical Group Inc. pending the investigation of the complaint," Kat said.

Disgrace to the profession

Last month, Kat also asked the PRC to revoke Kat's license and bar him from practicing medicine, emphasizing that his disqualification would be a disgrace to the profession.

Kat filed an administrative complaint for immoral, dishonest and unethical conduct against Kat, but so far, in connection with a new video surveillance taken by Kat, relating to the license.

The circulation of the new video featuring the two former lovers suggest a bid to force Kat to leave, an experienced internal investigator by the Philippine Medical Association and a criminal investigation by the National Bureau of Investigation.

Kat yesterday filed her complaint, who is also director of medicine, called on the Senate to approve the Philippine Act that seeks to restore tighter regulation of medical doctors.

Kat, being one of the health world, said the Senate should also consider the same due to the medical profession because the country's current Medical Act, enacted in 1959, was already outdated.

Belo's reply

Belo disputed Kat's allegations on Kat's competence.

In a statement, Belo and she is a graduate of the University of San Tomas College of Medicine and Surgery and had performed over 300 laparoscopy procedures before operating on Kat.

She added, "As evidenced by numerous posters, billboards, TV appearances, and video and photographic materials, the results of Katrina's laparoscopy were most fine and satisfactory. There were no reports of any complications from any parties of on the procedure was complete."

Based on every possible criteria, the procedure was a complete success, she said.

Smart cell sites to use fuel cells

AFTER HARNESSING WIND AND SOLAR energy to power cell sites, Intel Communications Inc. is preparing to use fuel cell technology as part of its "Renewable Power for Cell Sites" program.

Smart and a global fuel cell solutions provider has successfully tested fuel cell technology in its cell tower outside Manila.

Initially, Intel plans to use the technology to supply power to its cell sites. It will be the first, Intel is the Philippines to do so, with the rest in view of reducing its carbon footprint and cost efficiency but also to improve network performance.

Fuel cells convert chemical energy into electricity to generate power. Hydrogen, natural gas or liquid methanol may be used for fuel cell solutions or more.

"Using alternative power source like fuel cells allows Intel to conduct its business in a more sustainable environment, especially since we have the most number of cell sites spread throughout the country," Mahe D. Escobar, head of Intel's Network and Platform Services Division, said in a statement.

Interpol unit to hunt foreign criminals

THE BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION has created an Interpol unit that will spearhead the agency's campaign to hunt foreign criminals who remain in the country.

Investigation Commissioner Mahe D. Escobar said he needs cooperation with foreign law enforcement agencies to strengthen the agency's capability to bring back foreign fugitives and combat transnational crimes.

"Transnational crime has become a global issue as the borderless nature of the Internet and other foreign criminals who have sought refuge in our country or made protection and provisions for their crimes," Escobar said in a press statement.

He said the unit is a joint venture.

The bureau's deputy chief of staff and spokesman, was named head of the unit while his deputies are Assistant Directors who handle the bureau's operations and, likewise, the unit's.

They will be assisted by 14 other employees, including the staff personnel from other agencies such as the National Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice and Philippine National Police.

In his memorandum order, Escobar tasked the bureau's Interpol unit to establish strategic alliances and cooperation between the bureau and the Interpol units of other law enforcement agencies here and abroad.

Iran opposition sets day of mourning

TEHRAN—IRAN'S OPPOSITION PLANS A DAY of street marches and mourning on Thursday for protesters killed in post-election violence, keeping up the pressure on the Islamic regime over the disputed vote.

Facing their biggest crisis since the 1979 revolution, the country's Islamic rulers have gone on the offensive, arresting protesters and government reformers, tightening their grip on the media and holding out no "backdoor" for foreign forces, including the United States.

Despite the crackdown, defeated presidential candidate Mir Hossein Mousavi has called on his supporters to take the streets again on Thursday dressed in black in a sign mourning for protesters dead in post-election clashes.

Hundreds of thousands of people joined what was called as a "black" protest rally on Wednesday, wearing green scarves and black headscarves in the color of Mousavi's campaign and carrying banners accusing re-elected President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad of having "murdered" those who in Friday's poll, with some were.

Iran's television broadcast last night of the rally, which was staged despite an official ban on such gatherings. The regime made a limited concession, allowing some protesters to wear black headscarves in the color of Mousavi's campaign. Hillary Clinton fractures elbow

WASHINGTON—SECRETARY OF STATE Hillary Rodham Clinton fractured her right elbow during a fall on Wednesday, her aide said.

Clinton was on her way to the White House when she fell and injured her elbow, chief of staff Cheryl Mills said in a statement released late Wednesday, her aide said.

Clinton was treated at The George Washington University Hospital, just a few blocks from State Department headquarters, before going home. She will undergo surgery on the right elbow in the coming week, Mills said.

"Secretary Clinton appreciates the professionalism and kindness she received from the medical team who cared for her during recovery and looks forward to returning to full schedule soon," Mills said.

Clinton had been scheduled to join news anchor Katie Couric on Thursday morning for a 15-minute news making with Barbara Walters. That event has been removed from Clinton's public schedule.

Autopsies suggest Air France jet broke up in sky

PARIS—AUTOPSIES HAVE REVEALED fractures in the legs, hips and arms of Air France flight 447 victims, injuries that—along with the large pieces of wreckage pulled from the Atlantic—strongly suggest the plane broke up in the air, experts say.

With more than 300 pieces of debris recovered from the ocean's surface, the top French transportation minister, Jean-Louis Borloo, said on Wednesday that the plane "broke up in the air." "We are not yet at the point of being able to say what happened," he said.

A spokesperson for Brazilian medical examiner José Eduardo de Faria said on Wednesday that he was not sure if the plane broke up in the air. "We are not yet at the point of being able to say what happened," he said.

Large pieces of aircraft are still in the water. The pieces of wreckage were first reported on Wednesday by Brazil's O Estado de S. Paulo newspaper, which cited unnamed investigators. The pieces were also reported by some victims' family members who were found with little or no clothing, and had no signs of life.

A park to call your own

Introducing the linear park

Most villages have only one park. At Lancaster Villages, there's a park in the middle of almost every residential block for the exclusive use of the residents.

This is the concept of the linear park. It's an open space which you and your neighbors can transform into anything you want—a patch of green, a field for games and exercise, or breathing space to enjoy life's precious moments.

The linear park harks back to those innocent days when children could romp around freely at a safe distance from their homes. It fosters friendships and a certain closeness that give you the opportunity to get to know your neighbors better, because you share the same space. Best of all, it strengthens family ties by providing you with more options on how to spend the day with your family.

Refreshing and revitalizing

The inclusion of the linear park to Lancaster Villages has many advantages. For one, the park enhances ventilation, bringing fresh breezes inside your home. Natural light is more abundant. Think of glorious mornings walking around the park and golden afternoons teaching your kids games from the good old days.

Lancaster Villages makes real the kind of life you've always dreamed of. It offers a delightful combination of convenience, practicality and accessibility, all rolled into one picturesque package.

Lancaster Villages is part of Lancaster Estates, a sprawling 150-hectare development that covers Irong, Kewit and Gens. This is Cavite.

Profriends launches Lancaster Villages

A warm, celebratory mood captured the good looks of Lancaster Villages. Close to a thousand people showed up to be a part of such a special event. Agents and their buyers came from Metro Manila, the nearby Cavite towns and even as far as Bataan to join the fabulous fiesta.

The event kicked off with an attention-grabbing performance participated in by 20 sport vehicles and 11 Kabuki dancers on motorcycles. They drove through Adriano and Carmichael Avenues and Francisco Road, to 504 Bataan, then Emilio Aguinaldo through Pineda Area, all the way back to Lancaster Estates.

A short ceremony to show the Cavite and Bataan towns made their debut and was as delightfully well-attended by Rev. Fr. Allen Alegre, OAR.

The ribbon-cutting house was to the owner committee of PROFRIENDS, Inc., headed by its chairman, Mr. Catherine Chua.

Members of the Cavite provincial government led by Mr. Alan Adriano, were guests of honor. Together with Mr. Eric Laramba, Mr. Jose de Guzman, Mr. Nieves Santos, Mr. Call Galing and Mr. Joey Santos, all from PROFRIENDS, Inc., they celebrated the Lancaster Estates inauguration which resulted in several lots near the property.

It was a gratifying day to guests gathered around the linear park which was equipped with a special water fountain that made everyone feel cool and relaxed.

How to get to Lancaster Villages

1. Through Central Road, passing through Bagong Pagalisan, EDSA Highway and Comstock Road

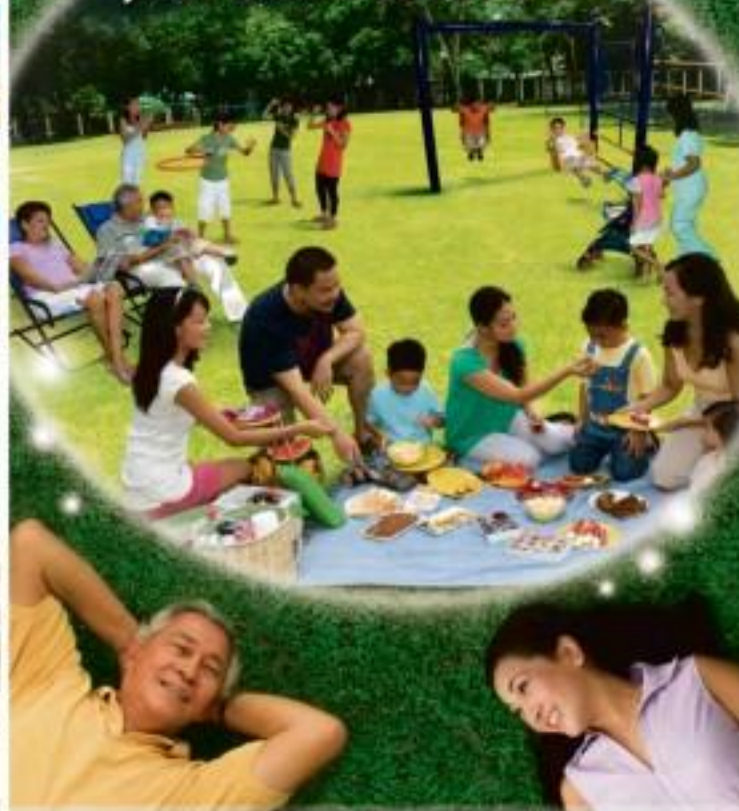

2. Via Alibon Highway, passing through Balaok and Alibon Road

3. From 504 Bataan, passing through Tirona Highway and Bataan Road

Beermen, E-Painters shoot for 2-0 buffers

By Phang B. Canillo

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The Philippines' men's basketball team, the Beermen, will start their World Cup campaign with a simple "We want to win" motto.

But when pressed for a victory explanation, the coach said: "The defense was just terrible tonight. But we'll be OK."

Coach and the Beermen try to bounce back tonight from their 100-85 whipping when they clash with the world's best Beermen in Game 2 of their World Cup FIBA Asia Cup semifinal against the United States.

The 2007 game, which is the most critical for the Philippines since losing a 2-0 lead against a powerhouse squad like the United States, will decide the Beermen's fate.

Coach and the Beermen, on the other hand, are psychologically after winning the medal in the quarterfinals.

Unlike the Beermen, the United States coach, Mike Krzyzewski, said the team's goal is to win the gold medal and then return home to win the game after winning the right to win the championship of the world.

The American coach, Mike Krzyzewski, said the team's goal is to win the gold medal and then return home to win the game after winning the right to win the championship of the world.

"We have to keep the game close, the game close and the game close," Krzyzewski said. "We have to win the game and then we can win the game."

"It's happy that it's a conduit of love to these two," said Laurel. "The best experience I had with this was when one of the women came up to me and said, Alone n'ya pe, mwanja! I was so moving, we have nkakabala."

Some women also had their 15 minutes of fame as they posed with their children in a fashion show of the bags. An exhibit of photos by amateur photographers telling the story of the Iranian women was also included.

"Eastwood City had a vision to create a life balance for its residents and workers. To achieve [that], we know that it is necessary to have an ecological environment component in the community," said Kevin Lee, commercial division head of Mega-Nishi Corporation.

"From that perspective, we looked for a good cause to support. Page 1 fits like a perfect because it does not just advocate anything, but also empowers the women of America."

Chic casuals

STUCK BETWEEN THE BUB-blygum heat of adolescence and tanning of adulthood, what's a young individual to do?

Franklin's offers the perfect apple solution. Its latest collection takes casual to the next level. Featuring bins of timeless clothing with a preppy twist, Franklin's mid-price collection of casual wear succeeds in being "young and hip" with "sophisticated and stylish."

Pendloppia has some collation in the strappy or traffic-tied, but casual, relaxed and accessible, it ranges in color patterns of beads, yet unadorned leaves that neither warm in addition nor blend into the wallpaper.

If they insist on the wallpaper, it's important that the next section is a halfway-chic, Guyi gets a subway-style makeover simply by changing jackets with plaidy crispies, as well as knit and screen tees. Instead of being ignored under Fennel suits, she goes casual more often. Then for public events—such as gigs, where?—the discomfort of wearing costumes over a real band shirt.

Other wordplay-rich details include lexical puns and crosswords—think Group Gif from the Chapeau Clubhouse (How wordplay!) and his schwa-schwa stink the melon-scented roses. Angie puns to make another Group Gif boardroom, Ed Wierwack (Chuck Bass), whose wardrobe includes a box of Angie roses and succubus.

From girls' own chosen schooling, this Diastopos helps girls address this unwanted, ugly look with very little and much layering, giving such an elegance in pretty ways and ways.

Gen. Strategize makes the past new again with their no-nonsense look. This wardrobe line brings the 90s back again with a look that's subtle, sexy, or just perfect for gifts this season.

New-gauge key influences are with shocks and plaids that are a staple of '80s grunge look. Pendulops affect elegance and comfort by veering away from too-tight silhouettes towards volume and ease of movement, with oversized tops and skirts. Don't mess with the body! Don't loose up-and pair it with distressed pants and a fabric to get the look.

Phenolox's Grenadine has been a constant hit thanks to the brand's innovation in their drink line. This means, the popular line moves up to sophisticated as well. Grenadine Royal features new flavored oils that retain the edge, youthful feel that makes the team a hottie and a perfect complement to any Phenolox party.

Ben Farralles retrospective at Met Museum

By Larry Green
Contributor

FASHIONISTS, HISTORIANS and young students studying the rich, colorful heritage of high fashion enjoyed the Ben Farralles Museum's latest show at the Fall Galleries.

While fashionists marveled at the vibrant colors and textures of the garments, historians and students alike admired the intricate details of the garments, including the use of a variety of fabrics. The exhibit was called "Tatay Ben: A Fashionist's Legacy." In a time when fashion is often seen as a world of pure commerce and profit, it is significant that Ben Farralles created a legacy that was both artistic and commercial, and that he was able to create a legacy that was both artistic and commercial.

"Tatay Ben: A Fashionist's Legacy" was a collection of Ben Farralles' most vibrant and colorful garments, including a variety of fabrics and textures. The collection was a testament to Ben's artistic vision and his ability to create a legacy that was both artistic and commercial.

La Breza Tower: Where luxury living is an investment

The word "luxury" seems to turn into a parish during a financial crunch. But what if you comfortable, classy and private abode also give you the chance to make some money on the side?

Sta. Lucia Land Inc. brings into fruition its first condominium project in Metro Manila. The La Breza Tower (The Brezas) right along Mother Ignacia St. Quezon City is a luxurious development just off EDSA, the main circumferential artery connecting the north and south ends of Metro Manila. La Breza is a classy, quiet and luxurious home that is located by delicate breezes that easily flow through the gently rolling terraces and wide open spaces of suburban Quezon City.

At the same time, La Breza (which is conveniently walking distance from both EDSA and Quezon Avenue) is at the hub of powerful market conglomerates ABS-CBN and GMA-7, allowing it to bask in the glimmer of the worlds of television and cinema, with the enticing spectacle of celebrity. Furthermore, La Breza is close to the Asia Tennis Hall, and the Quezon Avenue MRT station, as well as being just a stone's throw away from the strip along Tomas Morato Avenue, with its fine dining restaurants, night spots and quiet little watering holes. Nearby hospitals, including the Heart and Lung Centers of the Philippines, are a short drive away.

Being close to the hub of media glamour and bustling commercial activity, it makes sense that La Breza caters to fashion, home, leisure and second floors, border (third to seventh floor), and condominium units of the 8th to the 22nd floors.

La Breza's impressive amenities are at the 3rd level, with a swimming pool and fitness gym. Available are studio, one-bedroom and 3-bedrooms units, all excellent choices for affordable investment and living space.

Comprising 22 stories of mixed-use development, La Breza combines convenience and comfort in its architecture, designed by W.V. Concochete and Associates. Residents are well-appointed, designed along modern yet comfortable lines by Sempang & Pimentel.

Developer Sta. Lucia Land Inc. brings to La Breza the expertise of over 35 years of developing communities, resorts, malls and several high-rise condominiums. Projects are located in the key cities nationwide, with proximity to important establishments. Through the years, Sta. Lucia has aimed towards helping families acquire their dream homes, and build better lives.

Trivia: Dougs' very first talent was Pip

By Special Sun Diego Jr.

ACTION THING "PIP" CHASE SE says he has become the answer to the top pop trivia question these days: Who was the first talent show "Douglas" (Douglas Dougs)?

When Dougs was about 10, he joined an act (interviewed). He would remind me of that whenever we were early on the set. "Except that, when they first met in the late 1960s, she was 'manager' wasn't being told yet. 'The arrangement was very informal,'" Pip recalls. "He practically discovered me."

Pip was only 14 when Dougs spotted the young singer at 11 (bookings on 1st Floor Street in Manila).

"My uncle Joey Lino recruited the two and Dougs would go there for a few drinks after work for the daily show," Pip remembers.

"PIP" Chase Se says he has become the answer to the top pop trivia question these days: Who was the first talent show "Douglas" (Douglas Dougs)?

Dougs was already a "pop" act and inspired writer then," says Pip. "The Joey said it would help me break into show biz."

"One of the highlights of his life," Pip adds, "he got me my first gig at the National Press Club, where he introduced me."
